INTERACTIVE SOLUTIONS, INC. ON THE MOVE
ISI set to open third office location in 2011

MEMPHIS, TN February 22, 2011: Interactive Solutions, Inc. recently concluded a record breaking sales year for 2010, and is showing no signs of slowing down for 2011. Set to open ISI's third office location, CEO/Owner, Jay Myers, has aligned the company for continued growth. "Despite the current economic downturn, ISI has continued to grow and invest in our future and it gives us great pride to announce the opening of our second satellite office in Little Rock," announced Mr. Myers.

ISI is headquartered in Memphis, TN with a second office in Nashville. The company has a set a tentative date of March 15th, to open their third office at 3200 South Shackleford Road Little Rock. Mr. Myers feels opening the new office, "allows the company to strategically provide support for our biggest clients in telemedicine, distance learning and audio visual solutions and continue to grow the company's business in adjoining states as well."

This new location will better serve the state of Arkansas and outlying areas. The office will house, installation technicians, traveling account managers, and engineers. The facility will also be used as a stream-line for building and testing of ISI's "MD" solution telemedicine carts, as well as, have video conferencing rooms available for rental.
